The thousands of organizations that call Greater Philadelphia home employ more than 3.1 million people, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

From that sizable pool, the Philadelphia Business Journal's Best Places to Work program seeks to recognize the top employers in the region each year in partnership with Quantum Workplace.

Quantum administers online surveys to Philadelphia-area workers at all nominated companies, compiling and evaluating their feedback to determine our Best Places to Work. Businesses are then ranked in each of five size categories by their composite scores.

The employee surveys measure each company's culture taking compensation, benefits and trust in senior leadership into consideration.

Companies must be headquartered or have a physical office in Greater Philadelphia to be eligible. They must also have a minimum of 10 employees.

This year's list includes 80 companies divided into categories based on company size: micro (10-24 employees), small (25 to 49 employees), medium (50-99 employees), large (100 to 299 employees), and extra-large (300 or more employees).

We'll reveal the unranked 2026 finalists by category throughout this week. Finalists were announced Monday for the micro company category and Tuesday for the small category, and we continue today with the medium-size companies.

The three highest-ranked companies in each size category will be revealed at an event at Stateside Live! in South Philadelphia on July 23.
